Dear Amy:

All I can say is, WOW, when things were starting to get sad for us all, I received a call from you and The Renaissance Foundation who came to the rescue for some of our families. Your generous donation was just the pick me up that was needed during this pandemic. The books from Scholastic are amazing, and we are excited to get the books into the hands of our earliest learner who may not have a library of books at home. The books that you provided will be given with diapers and wipes to some of our most vulnerable families and at the food pantry while families are receiving food.

Thank you for the volunteer work that put into raising money for our future leaders and most valuable asset, children.

Together We Can,

Amber Peters
